

Welcome to Mosquito Lagoon RV Park!

We are a small community on the bank of the beautiful Mosquito Lagoon in the small city of Oak Hill, Florida. This area is known for some of the best fishing in Florida! We are also near many tourist attractions so there is a lot to see and do during your stay.

The Mosquito Lagoon RV Park is located directly on the remains of an ancient Timucuan Indian mound or midden. 'Midden' means dumping ground in Timucuan. The mound was removed by the County way back when the road beds meant more than preserving the past. This particular midden was called Hotel Mound. Someone long ago built a hotel on top of the mound, but after a short time it burned down, hence the name Hotel Mound. This mound was a dumping ground for all of the things the Indians discarded such as clams, conch and oyster shells. The one thing we still find in abundance at low tide on our banks are the discarded shards and larger pieces of their pottery. Within walking distance is the 'Seminole Rest' – a protected trail that offers a beautiful walk back in time of the Indians and the settlers that lived and ultimately saved this gem of the past.
